Can you please build out a press list (keep this tight) for Region 4, including: Kentucky, Tennessee, NC, SC, GA, AL, MS and FLA. We might be able to just do it quickly in Cision, but it might be worth reaching out to the 4 PAD to get some reporters we can reach out to directly, and maybe even give them the name on embargo? Like a top news reporter in each state, hopefully an AP or Reuters person...can you ask them without giving details?

The WH will only announce PAS positions, so they said we can go ahead with this announcement on our own. Senator Shelby and Senator Strange were both supporting Trey so they would be a good start to reach out for statements. They may have provided something to Leg Affairs in the WH already but might want to refresh now that it's a go.

Do we have an expected date of this announcement coming? I think we should have Troy's office reach out to him to get the names of folks that can speak on his behalf, tee up statements of support and get them ready to go, once the WH announces the nomination. Ken, I would suggest that we wait to reach out to the state partners until after the official nomination. We want to be sure that we can promote the nomination ourselves with support, and then let the state partners echo. Troy, I guess Christian is out, so do you want me to work with Kaitlyn on this?

Here is the rough line by line for Friday in Gladstone, Colorado:

- 10:45 a.m. MT – Meet in Gladstone near the water treatment plant for the Gold King Mine tour
- 11:00 – 11:40 a.m. MT – Tour of Gold King Mine site
- 11:45 – 12:00 p.m. MT – Media availability with Administrator Pruitt, Governor Hickenlooper, Senator Bennet, Senator Gardner adjacent to the water treatment plant under a tent with a podium. Press list to follow.
- 12:05 p.m. MT – Depart

Side note: we are talking to the Administrator this afternoon to get his buy in on the press availability.

Just tried to reach you by phone.

In any event, I am requesting a copy of the final so I can have it queued up to send to my media list immediately after yours goes out.

Also, it would be very helpful if you could include this email address in your blast list so I know when it goes though.

Best wishes.

EPA Announces Appointment of Peter Lopez to Region 2 Administrator

WASHINGTON (September 28, 2017) –Today, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) Administrator Scott Pruitt announced the appointment of Peter Lopez of New York to become Regional Administrator for Region 2. Mr. Lopez will oversee environmental protection efforts in New York, New Jersey, Puerto Rico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands.

Peter Lopez has served as a member of the New York State Assembly since 2007 representing a seven county region including Mid-Hudson, Northern Catskills, Southern Tier, and Capital District. Mr. Lopez is currently a member on the New York Assembly Committee on Environmental Conservation and a member of the Task Force on Food, Farm and Nutrition Policy where he has worked to provide proper oversight of New York's health and environment. While serving as a state legislator, Mr. Lopez has worked tirelessly to collaborate in developing and passing the state budget and promoting growth and opportunity for New Yorkers.

“Peter Lopez has spent nearly a decade in one of the country's largest state legislatures working to improve the quality of life of his constituents,” said Administrator Pruitt. “His familiarity with the region and his experience working to solve environmental problems in New York will be invaluable in helping EPA serve Americans in the Northeast and the Caribbean.”

His nomination is receiving high accolades from across the region:

Ladan Alomar, Executive Director of Centro Civico: “Peter Lopez, for more two decades, has made substantial contributions to improving lives of families in our region; we applaud him for his unconditional commitment to communities that he serves and congratulate him for his appointment to become EPA Regional Administrator.”

John Bartow, Executive Director of the Empire State Forest Products Association: “Pete Lopez has been a strong supporter of New York's forests and the forest products industry for several decades. He brings a broad understanding of the importance of sustainably managing natural resources while also meeting the needs of communities and local economies based on those resources. Pete will be a great asset to EPA and its responsibilities in New York, New Jersey, Puerto Rico and the US Virgin Islands.”

Mike Elmendorf, President & CEO of the Associated General Contractors of New York State: “We congratulate Administrator Pruitt on his appointment of Assemblyman Peter Lopez as EPA Regional Administrator for Region 2. Peter Lopez is a proven leader and public servant, and we are confident that he will effectively balance responsible stewardship of our environmental resources with economic development, timely decision making and the need for streamlining our regulatory and permitting processes. We look forward to working with Assemblyman Lopez in his new role.”

Gavin Donohue, President and CEO of the Independent Power Producers of New York: “In Peter's time with the Assembly, he took a balanced approach to energy and environmental policy. In the days after Hurricane Sandy, he had a pulse for what his local community needed and made sure those needs were met responsibly from an environmental standpoint. He will be a credit to the EPA, and independent power producers look forward to working with him.”

David Fisher, New York Farm Bureau President: “New York Farm Bureau has had a long, positive working relationship with Peter Lopez. He understands the needs of the agricultural community and the important role farmers play in environmental stewardship. We look forward to working with him in his new position as Regional EPA Director. Together, we can successfully safeguard our natural resources while balancing the economic and regulatory challenges that farmers face.”

Gerry Geist, Executive Director of Association of Towns of the State of New York: “As a former town supervisor and dedicated public servant, Assemblyman Peter Lopez has consistently found a way to help people by tackling difficult issues and looking for innovative solutions. We look forward to working with Mr. Lopez in his new role as EPA Region II Administrator to help town officials fund and maintain local water, wastewater and storm water infrastructure.”

Bob Martin, New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection Commissioner: “Congratulations to New York Assemblyman Peter Lopez on being named EPA Region 2 Regional Administrator. Assemblyman Lopez has an impressive background in public service and I congratulate Administrator Pruitt on naming someone with the Assemblyman’s record of accomplishment and leadership to this important post. I have had the chance to talk with Assemblyman Lopez and found that he has a strong commitment to protecting the environment, and especially, to working closely with the states and territories within his region. I am looking forward to working with him and the staff of dedicated professionals in EPA Region 2 as we continue to pursue our shared mission of protecting New Jersey’s environment.”

Anne Reynolds, Executive Director of the Alliance for Clean Energy New York: “We congratulate Assemblyman Peter Lopez on this important U.S. EPA appointment. New York has a long-standing and bipartisan tradition of environmental and clean energy leadership, and as a New Yorker, Assemblyman Lopez has experienced first-hand the impacts of severe storms and climate change. We look forward to working with Mr. Lopez as he continues this tradition, uses his well-respected skills at facilitation and problem-solving, and works to protect the air, water, and land of EPA Region 2.”

EPA/TCEQ: Updated status of systems affected by Harvey

Working together, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality continue to coordinate with local, state and federal officials to address the human health and environmental impacts of Hurricane Harvey and its aftermath, especially the water systems in the affected areas. The TCEQ has approximately 500 people and EPA has 263 people assisting in response to this natural disaster.

As part of this coordination, a Unified Command was established between the EPA, the TCEQ, the General Land Office, and the U.S. Coast Guard to oversee all emergency response efforts. This Unified Command is supported by three operational branches in Corpus Christi, Houston, and Port Arthur. In addition to the EPA, the TCEQ, the GLO, and the USCG, multiple agencies and groups are supporting each of the operational branches including the Texas National Guard, 6th Civil Support Team; the Arkansas National Guard, 61st Civil Support Team; the Oklahoma Task Force 1; and the Texas State Guard Engineering Group. Branch personnel are working to continuously monitor water and wastewater systems, as well as assess spills or discharges as a result of the storm.

As of Thursday Sept 14, the following information is available:

Drinking Water: To date, about 2,238 drinking water systems have been affected by Harvey. Of those: 2,014 systems are fully operational, 77 have boil-water notices, and 156 are shut down. Both the EPA and the TCEQ are contacting remaining systems to gather updated information of their status. Assistance teams are in the field working directly with system operators to expedite getting systems back to operational status.

Wastewater and Sewage: The TCEQ has made contact with 1,219 wastewater treatment plants in the 58 counties within the Governor's Disaster Declaration. Of those, 31 are inoperable in the affected counties. The agencies are aware that releases of wastewater from sanitary sewers are occurring as a result of the historic flooding and are actively working to monitor facilities that have reported spills. Additionally, the agencies are conducting outreach and providing technical guidance to all other wastewater facilities in flood-impacted areas. Assistance teams will continue to be deployed to work directly with system operators to expedite getting systems back to operational status.

On September 12, EPA approved the Texas Water Development Board proposed approaches to utilize State Revolving Funds from EPA to address immediate recovery and future resiliency efforts in Texas.

Flood Water: Water quality sampling will be focused on industrial facilities and hazardous waste sites. Floodwaters contain many hazards, including bacteria and other contaminants. Precautions should be taken by anyone involved in cleanup activities or any others who may be exposed to flood waters. These precautions include heeding all warnings from local and state authorities regarding safety advisories. In addition to the drowning hazards of wading, swimming, or driving in swift floodwaters, these waters can carry large objects that are not always readily visible that can cause injuries to those in the water. Other potential hazards include downed power lines and possible injuries inflicted by animals displaced by the floodwaters.

Critical Water Infrastructure: The TCEQ has made contact with the owners of the 340 dams in the impacted areas. There are 15 dams that have reported some type of damage. There have been no reports of downstream damage or loss of life. The TCEQ will be meeting with affected dam owners in the next week.

Additional EPA/TCEQ updates include:

Superfund Sites: The EPA and the TCEQ continue to get updates about the status of specific sites from the parties responsible for ongoing cleanup of the sites. The TCEQ has completed the assessment of all 17 state Superfund sites in the affected area. There were no major issues noted. The TCEQ will continue to monitor sites to ensure no further action is needed in regards to the storm.

The EPA completed site assessments at all 43 Superfund sites affected by the storm. Of these sites, two (San Jacinto Waste Pits and U.S. Oil Recovery) require additional assessment efforts. Underwater inspections by the EPA Dive Team at the San Jacinto Waste Pits site started this week and are continuing. No final determinations have been made by the Dive Team and their assessment is on-going. Repairs are underway on armored layer of the cap continue. The security cameras have not been restored and repairs are on-going. Yesterday, an EPA On-scene coordinator conducted an inspection of Vince Bayou to follow up on a rumor that material was offsite and did not find any evidence of a black oily discharge or material from the U.S. Oil Recovery site. The responsible party has been directed to sample the water standing in the open tanks and remove the excess storm waters. The responsible party has conducted operations to remove the excess water, and ensure that all materials in the former wastewater treatment tanks is secured.

The EPA or responsible parties have completed sampling the 34 Superfund sites in Texas and will finish sampling the 9 site in Louisiana tomorrow. Post-hurricane Superfund site summaries based on preliminary data results are being released.

Debris Management: The TCEQ, supported EPA, launched a social media blitz to encourage the separation of debris today. The TCEQ has approved 118 Temporary Debris Management Sites in areas under the Federal or State Disaster Declaration designations. TCEQ regional offices and local authorities are actively overseeing the siting and implementation of debris and waste management plans in the affected area. EPA, TCEQ and Army Corps of Engineer field observers are visiting staging and landfills to ensure compliance with guidelines. View a map of all Temporary Debris Management Sites.

Reconnaissance/Orphan Containers: The TCEQ continues to lead in monitoring facilities that have reported spills. Orphan containers, which include drums and tanks, found floating in or washed up near waterways continue to be gathered, sorted and grouped by type, prior to shipping them off for safe, proper treatment and disposal. Reconnaissance and assessment of facilities and vessels are being conducted to identify any leaks or spills and responded to accordingly. The Unified Command is also working to ensure the disposal of oil and hazardous materials is conducted properly. Response personnel operating out of Corpus Christi are expected to complete their work this week.

Air Quality Monitoring: One of the many preparations for Hurricane Harvey included the EPA, the TCEQ, and other monitoring entities temporarily shutting down several air monitoring stations from the greater Houston, Corpus Christi, and Beaumont areas to protect valuable equipment from storm damage. Since then, state and local authorities have been working to get the systems up and running again as soon as possible. As of Monday, Sept. 11, the TCEQ's air monitoring network is operational 100 percent in Corpus Christi, 96 percent in Houston, and 86 percent in Beaumont. The TCEQ is working to get the complete network fully operational as soon as possible and we will notify the public when the 3 remaining monitors are online. Of the available air monitoring data collected from Aug. 24 through Sept. 14, all measured concentrations were well below levels of health concern. The EPA conducted air monitoring using the TAGA mobile air monitoring bus in southeast Houston neighborhoods nearest industrial sources and data reports for September 5, 6, 7, 10, 12, 13 are available online at www.epa.gov/hurricane-harvey. EPA has concluded that the probable source of benzene and volatile organic compound readings in the Manchester community in Houston was the roof failure and spill from a light crude storage tank at the Valero Houston Refinery during Hurricane Harvey. EPA investigation into Valero Houston Refinery response and cleanup activities will continue.

Today, TAGA mobile air monitoring bus began monitoring air quality around three additional industrial sources near Deer Park, Texas.

EPA also sent its aerial surveillance aircraft to conduct a screening level assessment to evaluate unreported or undetected releases from facilities with Risk Management and/or Response Plans within the hurricane impacted areas. EPA's plane instrumentation measured 13 chemicals. The Airborne Spectral Photometric Environmental Collection Technology (ASPECT) aircraft found no exceedances of the Texas comparison values. The screening level results from ASPECT were compared to the ASPECT list of the TCEQ's short-term Air Monitoring Comparison Values and found no exceedances of the short-term AMCVs.

Refineries/Fuel Waivers: EPA approved the request from the State of Texas to continue to waive requirements for fuels in Texas through the end of the month to help address the emergency circumstances in Texas from Hurricanes Harvey and Irma.

CHICAGO (October 13, 2017) – The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has awarded five Great Lakes Restoration Initiative grants totaling more than $2.7 million for projects to control invasive species in Wisconsin.

“Invasive species are a serious problem facing the Great Lakes,” said EPA Administrator Scott Pruitt. “These grants will assist local partners in restoring the Great Lakes ecosystem while improving economies and preventing future damage to the environment.”

An invasive species is a plant or animal that is foreign to an ecosystem. During the past two centuries, invasive species have significantly changed the Great Lakes ecosystem and other fresh water lakes in the state of Wisconsin. These changes have greatly affected the economy, health, and well-being of the people that rely on the system for food, water, and recreation. Once established, it is extremely difficult to control their spread.

The grants announced today for invasive species control in Wisconsin are:

Bay-Lake Regional Planning Commission - $599,977

“Invasive species poses a significant threat to coastal wetlands and shorelines in Wisconsin. These coastal areas are critically important to fish and wildlife, recreation, and tourism,” said Angela Kowalzek-Adrians, natural resources planner at the Bay-Lake Regional Planning Commission. “This grant will help us manage invasive species to promote healthy native ecosystems and livable communities.”

The Bay-Lake Regional Planning Commission will control invasive species on approximately 1,000 acres in Kewaunee County, Wis. Funding will help protect high quality habitat, increase access to the coastline and nearshore areas, and improve property values in the county.

Southeastern Wisconsin Invasive Species Consortium Inc. - $600,000

“This funding will further our commitment to prevent new introductions of invasive plant species by blocking right-of-way and urban recreational pathways through which those species can be rapidly introduced to the Great Lakes native ecosystem,” said Jill Hapner, executive director of the Southeastern Wisconsin Invasive Species Consortium. “New partnerships and protocols will be secured long-term to support rapid response efforts and communicate up-to-date control and management techniques.”

The Southeastern Wisconsin Invasive Species Consortium will implement a multi-organization collaboration to control the spread of invasive species along 2,000 miles of roadways and more than 600 acres of woodland habitat. The collaboration will include local government roadway crews, property owners, community-based organizations and school groups.

Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources - $551,669

“Having this additional staff and resources will help us map and coordinate control of new and existing aquatic invasive species in those 900 acres of wetlands and lakes,” said Wisconsin DNR Secretary Dan Meyer. “Our goal is once this effort is complete, local organizations and volunteers can begin taking action to maintain, control and prevent these invasive species from taking over more lakes and wetland areas.”

The Wisconsin DNR, following a civilian conservation corps model, will hire two new employees to control invasive species in 900 acres of the Great Lakes Basin. Lake Winnebago Chain of Lakes and the Fox River above Green Bay will be targeted.

The Lakeshore Natural Resource Partnership - $598,673

“The Great Lakes are the largest network of freshwater resources in the world, and as a result are especially vulnerable to non-native species invasion. The non-native European strain of Phragmites is particularly aggressive in wetlands and shoreline habitats along Lake Michigan,” said Jim Kettler, executive director of the Lakeshore Natural Resource Partnership. “LNRP efforts to control and limit Phragmites spread will focus on collaboration between stakeholders including federal, state, and county agencies, local townships, private landowners, community non-profits, and natural area and right-of-way managers through the implementation of best management practices, education, and outreach.”

The Lakeshore Natural Resource Partnership will control invasive species on approximately 1,370 acres of wetland and aquatic habitat in northeastern Wisconsin. The funded project will improve the ecosystem services and enhance tourism, property values and navigation.

Wisconsin Tribal Conservation Advisory Council - $393,750

“Tribes have worked very hard in the reduction of invasive species and will continue to do so through the inception of a Wisconsin Tribal Invasive Species Cooperative,” said Alan Johnson, executive director of the Wisconsin Tribal Conservation Advisory Council. “The continued reduction of invasive species calls for cooperative and collaborative efforts among the Tribes as well as other Weed Cooperatives in Wisconsin. WTCAC believes that through Cooperative efforts, conservation of the Great Lakes will be enhanced.”

The Wisconsin Tribal Conservation Advisory Council will use funding to employ four tribal civilian conservation corps, who will work with eleven tribes to prevent the degradation of subsistence fish and wild rice resources. Funded staff will also manage aquatic, wetland and terrestrial invasive species on more than 500 acres of tribal lands.

Nancy – per this graph below, in order to give access to the HQ lists, Reema explained that everyone will have access to everyone else's lists. I see that only as a plus. Suggest we tell her that is what we want to do, ok with you, yes?

With regard to access to all lists, all of the lists are split out by different data groups. So, users who have access to the Chicago data group would not be able to access lists in the San Francisco data group, for example. I am not able to make any given list available in all data groups. One way to get around this would be to give all EPA users access to all data groups, thus giving them access to all of the lists in all of the data groups. Doing this would also give them access to the news in that data group.

Hi Julia,

Sure. I have combined the HQ EPA Environment, HQ EPA Environment Updated, and EPA HQ Environment – Environment and OK lists into one list called HQ EPA Environment. Would you like for me to delete the HQ EPA Environment Updated and EPA HQ Environment – Environment and OK lists?

One thing that I noticed is that there are several contacts on those lists who have their preferred delivery method set to Letter, rather than Email. If the preferred deliver method is set to Letter, they will not receive an email distribution.

Would you like for me to update all contacts that have their preferred delivery method set from Letter to Email? I can do this for any and all contacts you have set as private contacts. If they are public contacts, I will need to reach out to our media research team, or, we can add a new private record for that contact. If they are a public record with a preferred delivery type of letter, though, they may not want to receive email distributions. That is something that I can confirm with our media research team.

With regard to access to all lists, all of the lists are split out by different data groups. So, users who have access to the Chicago data group would not be able to access lists in the San Francisco data group, for example. I am not able to make any given list available in all data groups. Hi Julia,

I hope that you are doing well! I wanted to follow up with you on a couple outstanding items.

News Distribution Templates

A couple weeks ago you had inquired about changing the size for the HQ default template. Attached you will find two examples. In each the contact line is set to a larger size than it is now (which is Trebuchet MS 9). In the first attachment, the Contact line is set to Trebuchet MS 10.5. In the second one, the Contact line is set to Trebuchet MS 12. Please let me know how these look to you and if you would like the template updated to one of these sizes.

List Updates

Do you have any additional people that you need added to any contact lists? You had asked to have Abby Smith updated in the system a few weeks ago, which has been completed. She is currently set up on the below lists, is that correct? Or are there additional lists that she should be included on?

EPA HQ - Environment and OK; HQ EPA Environment; Coal Ash distribution; HQ EPA Environment Updated list

Thank you Julia!

Subject: NEWS RELEASE: EPA/TCEQ: Updated status of systems affected by Harvey

<image002.jpg>

CONTACT: press@epa.gov

EPA/TCEQ: Updated status of systems affected by Harvey

Working together, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality continue to coordinate with local, state and federal officials to address the human health and environmental impacts of Hurricane Harvey and its aftermath, especially the water systems in the affected areas. The TCEQ has approximately 500 people and EPA has 263 people assisting in response to this natural disaster.

As part of this coordination, a Unified Command was established between the EPA, the TCEQ, the General Land Office, and the U.S. Coast Guard to oversee all emergency response efforts. This Unified Command is supported by three operational branches in Corpus Christi, Houston, and Port Arthur. In addition to the EPA, the TCEQ, the GLO, and the USCG, multiple agencies and groups are supporting each of the operational branches including the Texas National Guard, 6th Civil Support Team; the Arkansas National Guard, 61st Civil Support Team; the Oklahoma Task Force 1; and the Texas State Guard Engineering Group. Branch personnel are working to continuously monitor water and wastewater systems, as well as assess spills or discharges as a result of the storm.

As of Thursday Sept 14, the following information is available:

Drinking Water: To date, about 2,238 drinking water systems have been affected by Harvey. Of those: 2,014 systems are fully operational, 77 have boil-water notices, and 1 are shut down. Both the EPA and the TCEQ are contacting remaining systems to gather updated information of their status. Assistance teams are in the field working directly with system operators to expedite getting systems back to operational status.

Wastewater and Sewage: The TCEQ has made contact with 1,219 wastewater treatment plants in the 58 counties within the Governor's Disaster Declaration. Of those, 31 are inoperable in the affected counties. The agencies are aware that releases of wastewater from sanitary sewers are occurring as a result of the historic flooding and are actively working to monitor facilities that have reported spills. Additionally, the agencies are conducting outreach and providing technical guidance to all other wastewater facilities in flood-impacted areas. Assistance teams will continue to be deployed to work directly with system operators to expedite getting systems back to operational status.

On September 12, EPA approved the Texas Water Development Board proposed approaches to utilize State Revolving Funds from EPA to address immediate recovery and future resiliency efforts in Texas.

Flood Water: Water quality sampling will be focused on industrial facilities and hazardous waste sites. Floodwaters contain many hazards, including bacteria and other contaminants. Precautions should be taken by anyone involved in cleanup activities or any others who may be exposed to flood waters. These precautions include heeding all warnings from local and state authorities regarding safety advisories. In addition to the drowning hazards of wading, swimming, or driving in swift floodwaters, these waters can carry large objects that are not always readily visible that can cause injuries to those in the water. Other potential hazards include downed power lines and possible injuries inflicted by animals displaced by the floodwaters.

Critical Water Infrastructure: The TCEQ has made contact with the owners of the 340 dams in the impacted areas. There are 15 dams that have reported some type of damage. There have been no reports of downstream damage or loss of life. The TCEQ will be meeting with affected dam owners in the next week.

Additional EPA/TCEQ updates include:

Superfund Sites: The EPA and the TCEQ continue to get updates about the status of specific sites from the parties responsible for ongoing cleanup of the sites. The TCEQ has completed the assessment of all 17 state Superfund sites in the affected area. There were no major issues noted. The TCEQ will continue to monitor sites to ensure no further action is needed in regards to the storm.

The EPA completed site assessments at all 43 Superfund sites affected by the storm. Of these sites, two (San Jacinto Waste Pits and U.S. Oil Recovery) require additional assessment efforts. Underwater inspections by the EPA Dive Team at the San Jacinto Waste Pits site started this week and are continuing. No final determinations have been made by the Dive Team and their assessment is on-going. Repairs are underway on armored layer of the cap continue. The security cameras have not been restored and repairs are on-going. Yesterday, an EPA On-scene coordinator conducted an inspection of Vince Bayou to follow up on a rumor that material was offsite and did not find any evidence of a black oily discharge or material from the U.S. Oil Recovery site. The responsible party has been directed to sample the water standing in the open tanks and remove the excess storm waters. The responsible party has conducted operations to remove the excess water, and ensure that all materials in the former wastewater treatment tanks is secured.

The EPA or responsible parties have completed sampling the 34 Superfund sites in Texas and will finish sampling the 9 site in Louisiana tomorrow. Post-hurricane Superfund site summaries based on preliminary data results are being released.

Debris Management: The TCEQ, supported EPA, launched a social media blitz to encourage the separation of debris today. The TCEQ has approved 118 Temporary Debris Management Sites in areas under the Federal or State Disaster Declaration designations. TCEQ regional offices and local authorities are actively overseeing the siting and implementation of debris and waste management plans in the affected area. EPA, TCEQ and Army Corps of Engineer field observers are visiting staging and landfills to ensure compliance with guidelines. View a map of all Temporary Debris Management Sites.

Reconnaissance/Orphan Containers: The TCEQ continues to lead in monitoring facilities that have reported spills. Orphan containers, which include drums and tanks, found floating in or washed up near waterways continue to be gathered, sorted and grouped by type, prior to shipping them off for safe, proper treatment and disposal. Reconnaissance and assessment of facilities and vessels are being conducted to identify any leaks or spills and responded to accordingly. The Unified Command is also working to ensure the disposal of oil and hazardous materials is conducted properly. Response personnel operating out of Corpus Christi are expected to complete their work this week.

Air Quality Monitoring: One of the many preparations for Hurricane Harvey included the EPA, the TCEQ, and other monitoring entities temporarily shutting down several air monitoring stations from the greater Houston, Corpus Christi, and Beaumont areas to protect valuable equipment from storm damage. Since then, state and local authorities have been working to get the systems up and running again as soon as possible. As of Monday, Sept. 11, the TCEQ's air monitoring network is operational 100 percent in Corpus Christi, 96 percent in Houston, and 86 percent in Beaumont. The TCEQ is working to get the complete network fully operational as soon as possible and we will notify the public when the 3 remaining monitors are online. Of the available air monitoring data collected from Aug. 24 through Sept. 14, all measured concentrations were well below levels of health concern. The EPA conducted air monitoring using the TAGA mobile air monitoring bus in southeast Houston neighborhoods nearest industrial sources and data reports for September 5, 6, 7, 10, 12, 13 are available online at www.epa.gov/hurricane-harvey. EPA has concluded that the probable source of benzene and volatile organic compound readings in the Manchester community in Houston was the roof failure and spill from a light crude storage tank at the Valero Houston Refinery during Hurricane Harvey. EPA investigation into Valero Houston Refinery response and cleanup activities will continue.

Today, TAGA mobile air monitoring bus began monitoring air quality around three additional industrial sources near Deer Park, Texas.

EPA also sent its aerial surveillance aircraft to conduct a screening level assessment to evaluate unreported or undetected releases from facilities with Risk Management and/or Response Plans within the hurricane impacted areas. EPA's plane instrumentation measured 13 chemicals. The Airborne Spectral Photometric Environmental Collection Technology (ASPECT) aircraft found no exceedances of the Texas comparison values. The screening level results from ASPECT were compared to the ASPECT list of the TCEQ's short-term Air Monitoring Comparison Values and found no exceedances of the short-term AMCVs.

Refineries/Fuel Waivers: EPA approved the request from the State of Texas to continue to waive requirements for fuels in Texas through the end of the month to help address the emergency circumstances in Texas from Hurricanes Harvey and Irma.

Yes. I have removed you from the opt-out, so you should now receive any email distributions sent by anyone from any region in the EPA.

Hi Julia,

Anyone who opted out of receiving email distributions from the Default data group will not receive email distributions sent out of that data group.

For example, the R1 - Casco Bay Annual Funding 2017 distribution was sent out of the default data group on September 27th. It was sent to all contacts on the following lists:

Media Contact Lists:

R1 - EPA NE Internal; R1 - ME - Editorial; R1 - ME - Maine All; R1 - Press cc: List

Media Outlet Lists:

R1 - ME - Augusta, 20 mile radius; R1 - ME - Boothbay Harbor (15 mile); R1 - ME - Portland DMA (all)

Individual Lists:

R1 - A. Signups List; R1 - ME District 1 Press

Nancy is included on the R1 – ME – Maine All list, so the distribution was sent to her. However, because she opted out of receiving email distributions sent out of the Default data group, she should not have received this email distribution.

Nancy – can you please let me know if you did receive this email distribution?

Nancy will receive distributions sent out of other data groups, however. For example, the IRMA Update – 10/4/2017 that was sent out of the HQ data group on October 4th was sent to all contacts on the Coal Ash distribution and HQ EPA Ops Alert lists. Nancy is on both of these lists, so she should have received the distribution.

I think I may have found the issue here! I was running the opt-out list just to make sure that Amy Dewey was not still on there, and I noticed that John Konkus opted out of receiving email distributions sent out of the HQ data group on March 31st. He opted out after receiving the Chlorpyrifos distribution.

I have removed him from the opt-out, so he should start to receive emails now. Do you plan on sending a distribution today that should go to him? If so, please let me know as I'd like to check in to make sure he received it.

Julia, please review the attached list as this includes all EPA users that will not receive email distributions due to opting out. If any of them may have done this in error and do in fact need to receive email distributions, please let me know and I can opt-them back in.

Hi Julia,

The issue with Amy Dewey should have been resolved at the end of March. Please see my attached email with Cathy Milbourn.

Amy's email address was included in our list of opt-outs. She was listed as having opted-out of receiving email distributions on August 16, 2016. I have removed her from the opt-out, so she should have started receiving email distributions since then.

Is she still not receiving email distributions?

Reema,

From the attached logs I do see that our mail servers are successfully connecting and delivering to the destination server based on the following information:

Destination address: konkus.john@epa.gov
SMTP response: smtp;250 2.0.0 v93BpG2r007875-v93BpG2x007875 Message accepted for delivery
Destination server: grid1f.gseg.att.com (12.96.40.140)

I apologize if the following questions have already been asked or tests have been performed but I want to cover all the bases in order to narrow in on the potential issue:

1. Have we tried to perform an email send to konkus.john@epa.gov from an internal Cision account?
-- Yes, Reema was able to email him, he received it and responded (late last week)
2. Are other recipients on the epa.gov domain receiving the emails?
-- Yes, I am one of them, and there are many (30+) others who receive, no problem. That said, there is one person who has had the same problem for about six months. Amy Dewey. Dewey.amy@epa.gov We have never figured out her issue, either. But her need for receiving these is less urgent than John's.
3. Did this issue just start or has it been an issue for an extended period of time?
-- This has been going on for 4-5 weeks. I can go back and see when I first heard about it. But I recall it was around Labor Day.

Hello John!

My name is Reema Gruenspecht, and I am the Enterprise Support rep for the EPA account with Cision. Julia Valentine has let me know that you are not receiving email distributions sent through Cision.

I have looked you up in the USEPA Cision account, and I see that your email is set to konkus.john@epa.gov, with a preferred delivery type of Email, and you are on the following lists:

HQ EPA Enviroment Updated list; HQ EPA Environment; HQ EPA OPS Alert; HQ EPA OPS Test

This means that any distribution sent to one of those lists, you should receive.

Can you please verify that the distribution is not being sent to your SPAM or JUNK folder? I have also attached our mail logs, which show that emails today did successfully leave our servers to be sent to you. Can you please share this with your IT folks to determine where the email may be getting held up? If needed, our IP address for whitelisting is 65.123.29.0/24.

Also, please note that I will be traveling tomorrow and may not have access to my email for part of the day. Please feel free to contact our Enterprise Support team at enterprisesupport.us@cision.com for further assistance with this.

Thank you!

Best,

Reema

*Please Note: I will be on business travel from Tuesday, September 26th – Wednesday, September 27th. For immediate support during that time, please email enterprisesupport.us@cision.com.

Hi Carolyn, Pat, Sven & Christina – I received a call this afternoon from Candace Vahlsing of the Senator's staff interested in being included on any notifications in general and those related to Colorado. Her email is Candace\_vahlsing@bennet.senate.gov. Please double check your lists to make sure she's included. Thank you!

Hi Nancy, is there someone we can work with to make sure she's on the press release list? Thank you!

If you have any questions, let me know.

Best, Robin

This is the attached release for the fuel waiver. I will send it out to our press contacts and post to the news release section on the website. Cari, I noticed that some of your edits to the Maria press release were done after this was finished. Do you want those changes to carry over or should it go how it is?

Thanks,

I understand that we cannot add the information about the fuel waiver in the press release until the fuel waiver specific press release goes out. Planning for that to happen today, please see the edits we have added to the Maria press release (page 2). We have an enforcement section where the fuel waiver actions are added. OK Amy. Is this a separate press list? This and other similar releases -- Like the one about the Wall Street Journal coal editorial -- do not appear on your press website. They seem to only go to certain people and news outlets. What is the distinction and Who receives these other "news releases?"

EPA Approves Emergency Fuel Waiver for Puerto Rico

WASHINGTON (September 26, 2017) – In response to Hurricane Maria, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) Administrator Scott Pruitt today approved a request from Puerto Rico Governor Ricardo Rosselló for an emergency fuel waiver.

To minimize or prevent disruptions with the supply of diesel fuel for mobile nonroad generators and pumps used for emergency purposes, the EPA waived the diesel requirements through October 15, 2017, allowing the sale, distribution, and use of heating oil and marine fuel designated for use in Emission Control Areas (ECA marine fuel) that exceed the 15 parts per million (ppm) sulfur standard if the fuel meets certain conditions.

The waiver includes a warning that the use of diesel fuel exceeding the 15 ppm sulfur standard in any engine equipped with exhaust after treatment emission controls (e.g., diesel particulate filter) may cause serious damage to the engine and its emissions control components.

The waiver authority was exercised under the Clean Air Act and was granted by EPA Administrator Pruitt, in coordination with the U.S. Secretary of Energy Rick Perry.

As required by law, EPA and the Department of Energy (DOE) evaluated the situation and determined that granting a short-term waiver was consistent with the public interest. EPA and DOE are continuing to actively monitor the fuel supply situation as a result of Hurricanes Harvey, Irma and Maria, and will act expeditiously if extreme and unusual supply circumstances exist in other areas.

To mitigate any impacts on air quality, the Clean Air Act provides strict criteria for when fuels waivers may be granted, and requires that waivers be limited as much as possible in terms of their geographic scope and duration.

> Anne, Emily, good morning. EPA's Office of Public Affairs has given us the green light on this announcement. I'm attaching the draft release. They have asked that we confirm USDA will send as a joint release and provide a quote from Secretary Perdue. They've also asked that we check w/ Senator King and Collins offices and the communities to see if they would like to provide quotes. We'll keep you posted on those items. Please let us know if this plan works for you all, and if so, if you have any edits to the release. (Note, we don't yet have a proposed date/time, will determine once we get response to requests for quotes). Thanks!

We are not planning to a quote per our Press Office direction. I did consult them and the reasoning was that USDA does not usually contribute a quote from the Secretary in a state press release.

Hi Sandy,

I have contacted our National Press Office and we have been advised to go ahead with this release as is. I think it makes the most sense to also reach out to the Senators' offices and get quotes from them to include in your release. I would prefer that EPA send it and be the point for press, but I am happy to share our Maine press contacts if that would be helpful.

Thank you,

Emily

Hi Sandy,

May we connect briefly on this by phone? I just have a couple of thoughts/questions for us to consider. I can be reached directly at Ex. 6

Thank you,

Great -- thanks Emily!

Attached is the map we would plan to place on the EPA Cool & Connected web page.

Below is a draft release, which includes the draft summaries of the Eastport and Millinocket Cool & Connected projects.

Bob and Ed,

I will definitely be reaching out to the EPA contact today to coordinate an announcement. Once we have discussed a strategy, we will keep all in the loop. Can you send me the "map and blurbs" referenced below on the two Maine communities? Just getting back from being out, so my apologies if I missed them.

Best,

Emily

Ed:

We'd definitely like to coordinate w/ the EPA on this one.

Can your folks contact Emily (Our Maine Public Information Coordinator, Ex. 6) on Monday? Unfortunately, she's on vacation this week.

Emily would coordinate w/ us in the national office as well, but as a Maine specific project, our state office is the best conduit for this one.

Bob, Ryeon,

Please see below. Would USDA like to make an announcement of our new Cool & Connected partner communities in Maine?

I have asked the same question of my EPA colleagues.

In addition, note that staff of the Maine congressional delegation asked that we let them know when the website will be updated and the Maine partnerships are made public. If EPA and USDA want, we could offer those congressional offices the opportunity to make an announcement.

Hi Megan,

For updating the EPA Cool & Connected website, attached and pasted below please find a map and blurbs reflecting our new partner communities, Eastport, Maine, and Millinocket, Maine.

Could you kindly review these and, once in form, prepare to publish?

Please note that we do not need to publish this update immediately. I would like to first see if EPA, USDA, or the Maine congressional delegation would like to make an announcement. If so, we would want to appropriately time the website publishing.

Make sense?

Thanks!

--Eastport, Maine will leverage broadband to attract teleworkers, provide residents new opportunities, and boost small businesses on main street.

--Millinocket, Maine and the community organization Our Katahtdin will work to get more residents connected digitally, and leverage broadband service for main street revitalization and potential re-use of the Millinocket Mill site.

Sorry about the (very long) delay, Ed. It won't take so long next time--looks like some of my GIS files were deleted when I got a computer upgraded, so I had to redo the map entirely!

First, I sent an email to the general EPA press office contact yesterday to provide my updated contact info. I recently moved from Inside EPA to Bloomberg BNA, and I want to make sure I remain on EPA's press list. I haven't yet heard back. Could you please confirm you have updated my contact on your press list with my new info?

Second, I will be the reporter from Bloomberg BNA covering the ECOS conference Sept. 11 and 12. I see on the agenda that a few EPA officials are slated to speak, and I was wondering if it would be possible to schedule a brief interview with any of them on the sidelines of the conference. I see that Ken Wagner and Henry Darwin are scheduled to speak. Please let me know if either of them would be interested in speaking with me. I'd love to set something up if possible.

Looking forward to hearing from you.

Hi Robert,

Nice talking with you a moment ago. Here's what I was referring to: This FR notice says "brief biographical sketches for these candidates are posted on the EPA website at <https://www.epa.gov/tsca-peer-review>." But I checked the website and couldn't find anything on the candidates. Did I miss something? If not, could you please provide me with the sketches referred to in the notice?

Also, can you check on my press list requests? I've emailed press@epa.gov at least twice in the last month asking to be added.

Thanks, C

Good morning, Reema,

List melding

Before deleting those two lists, would you please let me know which contacts were on the OK and updated lists that were NOT on the HQ EPA Environment (prior to you blending them).

"Letter" as method of deliver

Before we do anything, would you send me the list of reporters who have letter (?) as their preferred method of delivery?

Data groups

Regarding the data groups, yes please give full access to all data groups to everyone. Nancy confirmed.

Thanks, Reema!

Hi Julia,

Sure. I have combined the HQ EPA Environment, HQ EPA Environment Updated, and EPA HQ Environment – Environment and OK lists into one list called HQ EPA Environment. Would you like for me to delete the HQ EPA Environment Updated and EPA HQ Environment – Environment and OK lists?

One thing that I noticed is that there are several contacts on those lists who have their preferred delivery method set to Letter, rather than Email. If the preferred deliver method is set to Letter, they will not receive an email distribution.

Would you like for me to update all contacts that have their preferred delivery method set from Letter to Email? I can do this for any and all contacts you have set as private contacts. If they are public contacts, I will need to reach out to our media research team, or, we can add a new private record for that contact. If they are a public record with a preferred delivery type of letter, though, they may not want to receive email distributions. That is something that I can confirm with our media research team.

With regard to access to all lists, all of the lists are split out by different data groups. So, users who have access to the Chicago data group would not be able to access lists in the San Francisco data group, for example. I am not able to make any given list available in all data groups. One way to get around this would be to give all EPA users access to all data groups, thus giving them access to all of the lists in all of the data groups. Doing this would also give them access to the news in that data group. Please let me know if that is something that you would want to do!

Best,

Reema

Hi Reema!

Media Contact Lists:

Would you please combine these three lists into one? Please fold the last two into the first list (highlighted).

HQ EPA Environment
HQ EPA Environment Updated list
EPA HQ Environment – Environment and OK

Access to all lists:

Would you please make sure that all EPA users are able to access all EPA Media Contact Lists? This way, when the Region is putting something out from HQ, they can access our lists, and vice versa.

I'll check the sizes you sent and get back to you about those. Thank you.

Thank you!

Hi Julia,

I hope that you are doing well! I wanted to follow up with you on a couple outstanding items.

News Distribution Templates

A couple weeks ago you had inquired about changing the size for the HQ default template. Attached you will find two examples. In each the contact line is set to a larger size than it is now (which is Trebuchet MS 9). In the first attachment, the Contact line is set to Trebuchet MS 10.5. In the second one, the Contact line is set to Trebuchet MS 12. Please let me know how these look to you and if you would like the template updated to one of these sizes.

List Updates

Do you have any additional people that you need added to any contact lists? You had asked to have Abby Smith updated in the system a few weeks ago, which has been completed. She is currently set up on the below lists, is that correct? Or are there additional lists that she should be included on?

EPA HQ - Environment and OK; HQ EPA Environment; Coal Ash distribution; HQ EPA Environment Updated list

Thank you Julia!

Best,

Good morning, Reema,

List melding

Before deleting those two lists, would you please let me know which contacts were on the OK and updated lists that were NOT on the HQ EPA Environment (prior to you blending them).

I'm afraid that since they have already been blended, the only way that I can do this is to rollback, or "unblend" the lists if you will. Because the lists are now blended, everyone is on the EQ EPA Environment list and I am unable to tell which ones were not on there previously. If I "unblend" the lists, I can take a look and let you know, and then blend them again.

Another thing that I can do is export the entire HQ EPA Environment list, and take a look at all of the lists that the contacts are on. All of them are on the HQ EPA Environment list now, but it will also show which ones are on the other two lists. This won't really show you which ones were not on the HQ EPA Environment list before they were blended, though.

"Letter" as method of deliver

Before we do anything, would you send me the list of reporters who have letter (!) as their preferred method of delivery?

Sure. I have attached an export of both the public and private contacts that have their preferred delivery method set to letter.

Data groups

Regarding the data groups, yes please give full access to all data groups to everyone. Nancy confirmed.

Sure. Before doing this, I've exported and attached a complete export of all of the EPA users, divided by the data groups they currently have access to. Can you please let me know if there are any contacts that should be removed? Or any that should have access that you do not see? Before giving access to everyone, I just want to make sure that all of those users are up to date. Note that doing this will give them access to all of the news as well. So, Chicago users will see the news feeding into San Francisco, for example, unless when they log in they choose to select the Chicago data group.

Thanks, Reema!

Hi,

"Separately, the Environmental Protection Agency on Thursday ordered Arkema, a French multinational company, to provide a detailed timeline of events and to respond within 10 days to questions about the handling of organic peroxides, which are combustible if not kept refrigerated, the amount of chemical materials, and the measures taken in advance to guard against flooding and loss of electricity."

Where was this information posted?

Could I be added to the press list for Region 6 (and all the other regions if possible) if I am not already?

Thank you,

Yes, it is correct that the site has not had an RMP inspection at the Arkema - Crosby facility based on available records back to 2003. The inspection criteria that we use for high risk facilities are where offsite consequences impact a large number of people or they have had an accident.

I understand. But, for example, I didn't receive EPA's recent release about Bill Wehrum's nomination to be the agency's air chief. A colleague forwarded it to me. I want to make sure I am receiving those releases and others related to EPA personnel and policy matters, as that is predominantly what I cover. Could you please make sure I am on the list to receive those? Let me know if you need any further information from me in order to do so.

Thank you!

Will check/make sure you are on the list. Some stuff is targeted so we don't overwhelm folks.

Hello,

I hope this email finds you well! This is Abby Smith with Bloomberg BNA. I just wanted to double check that my information is correct on your press list. I haven't received any EPA press releases for the past few days, and I want to make sure I am on the list and up to date. Could you please confirm that my correct email (this email) is on the list?

Thanks for your help,

I would like to make sure I am subscribed to receive all EPA press releases and notices. Today, I did not receive the news release citing the Washington Post article concerning the NYT, so wanted to make sure I was fully subscribed. Thank you.

Sincerely,

I'm confused by the reply since I had a few quick questions. Hoped you could help:

1. I wanted to be sure I'm on all the EPA's press lists so I get all of the emails, including media alerts
2. Can you please forward a copy of the NYT email alert?
3. Does the EPA have a comment on the status of its review of the National Climate Assessment?

Thanks

Subject: FOR REVIEW: EE NEWS (Corbin Hiar) SACC question - DEADLINE 8/7

BACKGROUND

The 2016 Lautenberg Act established the Science Advisory Committee on Chemicals (SACC)
The committee currently consists of 18 members. If necessary, a subcommittee will be formed to supplement the expertise of the 18 members. The SACC provides independent scientific advice and recommendations to the EPA on the scientific and technical aspects of risk assessments, methodologies, and pollution prevention measures and approaches for chemicals regulated by TSCA. – Corbin Hiar – EE News – chiar@eenews.net

Subject: SACC question and press list request

Hi Robert,

Nice talking with you a moment ago. Here's what I was referring to: This FR notice says "brief biographical sketches for these candidates are posted on the EPA website at <https://www.epa.gov/tsca-peer-review>." But I checked the website and couldn't find anything on the candidates. Did I miss something? If not, could you please provide me with the sketches referred to in the notice?

Also, can you check on my press list requests? I've emailed press@epa.gov at least twice in the last month asking to be added.

Thanks, C

Hello,

My name is Abby Smith, and I recently joined Bloomberg BNA as a climate policy and EPA reporter. I am hoping someone could add me to EPA's press list so I am able to receive news releases from the agency. Please let me know what information you need from me to make this possible.

Thank you for your help!

Abby Smith

Hi there – After we add an approved reporter to the cision list, how can I make sure that person is added in the other press releases program? I can export a new list and send to you each time (maybe once a week or less). Or just the person's name and info? Pls let me know. This reporter was added last Friday and is receiving the cision releases but not the others.

Thank you!

Enesta (cc'ing a couple other press contacts as well):

I'm a staff writer at the CSMonitor, and am working on a story about the EPA under Scott Pruitt. Ultimately, the piece is looking at the pretty stark shift in direction for the EPA under Mr. Pruitt's direction, and what the potential impact of the changes he's making - particularly in regulatory rollback, budget, and enforcement - could mean, as well as the legal roadblocks to enacting some of those changes. I'd love to get feedback for the story from the EPA, and am hoping you can direct me to the best person.

My deadline is tomorrow.

Many thanks,

EPA Takes Another Step To Advance President Trump's America First Strategy, Proposes Repeal Of "Clean Power Plan"

WASHINGTON (October 10, 2017) - Today, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) Administrator Scott Pruitt issued a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM), proposing to repeal the so-called "Clean Power Plan (CPP)." After reviewing the CPP, EPA has proposed to determine that the Obama-era regulation exceeds the Agency's statutory authority. Repealing the CPP will also facilitate the development of U.S. energy resources and reduce unnecessary regulatory burdens associated with the development of those resources, in keeping with the principles established in President Trump's Executive Order on Energy Independence.

"The Obama administration pushed the bounds of their authority so far with the CPP that the Supreme Court issued a historic stay of the rule, preventing its devastating effects to be imposed on the American people while the rule is being challenged in court," said EPA Administrator Scott Pruitt. "We are committed to righting the wrongs of the Obama administration by cleaning the regulatory slate. Any replacement rule will be done carefully, properly, and with humility, by listening to all those affected by the rule.”

CPP Appears to be Inconsistent with the Clean Air Act

The CPP, issued by the Obama administration, was premised on a novel and expansive view of Agency authority that the Trump administration now proposes to determine is inconsistent with the Clean Air Act. In fact, the CPP was put on hold in February 2016, when the U.S. Supreme Court issued an unprecedented, historic stay of the rule.

“EPA will respect the limits of statutory authority. The CPP ignored states’ concerns and eroded longstanding and important partnerships that are a necessary part of achieving positive environmental outcomes. We can now assess whether further regulatory action is warranted; and, if so, what is the most appropriate path forward, consistent with the Clean Air Act and principles of cooperative federalism,” said Administrator Pruitt.

The CPP was issued pursuant to a novel and expansive view of authority under Section 111 of the Clean Air Act (CAA). The CPP required regulated entities to take actions “outside the fence line.” Traditionally, EPA Section 111 rules were based on measures that could be applied to, for, and at a particular facility, also referred to as “inside the fence line” measures. Prior to the CPP being issued, every single Section 111 rule on the books, including a handful of existing source rules and around 100 new-source rules, obeyed this limit. As the CPP departed from this traditional limit on EPA’s authority under an “inside the fence line” interpretation, EPA is proposing to repeal it.

EPA has now sent the NPRM to the Federal Register for publication. Upon publication, the public will have 60 days to submit comments.

The repeal package includes:

1. The “preamble,” which lays out the proposed legal interpretation, policy implications, and a summary of the cost-benefits analysis of the proposed repeal; and
2. The “Regulatory Impact Analysis (RIA),” an in-depth cost-benefit technical analysis.

CPP Repeal Saves up to $33 Billion in Avoided Costs in 2030

The proposed repeal both examines the Obama administration’s cost-benefit analysis, as well as provides insights to support an updated analysis of the environmental, health, and economic effects of the proposed repeal. The Trump administration estimates the proposed repeal could provide up to $33 billion in avoided compliance costs in 2030.

The previous administration's estimates and analysis of these costs and benefits was, in multiple areas, highly uncertain and/or controversial. Specific areas of controversy and/or uncertainty in the Obama administration's analysis of CPP include:

- ? Domestic versus global climate benefits: The previous administration compared U.S. costs to an estimate of supposed global benefits, and failed to follow well-established economic procedures in estimating those benefits.
- ? "Co-benefits" from non-greenhouse-gas pollutants: The Obama administration relied heavily on reductions in other pollutants emitted by power plants, essentially hiding the true net cost of the CPP by claiming benefits from reducing pollutants that had nothing to do with the rule's stated purpose.
- ? Energy cost and savings accounting: The Obama administration counted "energy efficiency" results of their rule as an avoided cost, resulting in a cost estimate being considerably lower than it would have been if they used the appropriate practice of considering these effects as benefits, rather than subtracting them from costs. Had the Obama administration used the Office of Management and Budget's longstanding requirements and accounted cost and savings accordingly, it would have presented a more accurate accounting of the total cost of the CPP.

In this proposed repeal and its accompanying technical documents, this administration is, in a robust, open, and transparent way, presenting a wide range of analysis scenarios to the public.

As part of the notice-and-comment process for this proposed repeal, EPA will continue this analysis and inform the public, as necessary, to get feedback on new modeling and other information. The final action on this proposed repeal will address the results of this ongoing work.

Forthcoming is an Advanced Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (ANPRM) that will be reflective of a thoughtful and responsible approach to regulatory action grounded within the authority provided by the statute.

"With this action, the Trump administration is respecting states' role and reinstating transparency into how we protect our environment," said Administrator Pruitt.

Background:

On March 28, President Trump signed an Executive Order on Energy Independence, establishing a national policy in favor of energy independence, economic growth, and the rule of law. The purpose of the Executive Order (EO) is to facilitate the development of U.S. energy resources and to reduce unnecessary regulatory burdens associated with the development of those resources. That same day, EPA Administrator Scott Pruitt signed four Federal Register notices in response to the EO, including a formal announcement of review of the Clean Power Plan. After substantial review, the Agency has proposed to determine that the Clean Power Plan (CPP) must be repealed.

The previous administration’s estimates and analysis of these costs and benefits was, in multiple areas, highly uncertain and/or controversial. Specific areas of controversy and/or uncertainty in the Obama administration’s analysis of CPP include:

- ⌘ Domestic versus global climate benefits: The previous administration compared U.S. costs to an estimate of supposed global benefits, and failed to follow well-established economic procedures in estimating those benefits.
- ⌘ “Co-benefits” from non-greenhouse-gas pollutants: The Obama administration relied heavily on reductions in other pollutants emitted by power plants, essentially hiding the true net cost of the CPP by claiming benefits from reducing pollutants that had nothing to do with the rule’s stated purpose.
- ⌘ Energy cost and savings accounting: The Obama administration counted “energy efficiency” results of their rule as an avoided cost, resulting in a cost estimate being considerably lower than it would have been if they used the appropriate practice of considering these effects as benefits, rather than subtracting them from costs. Had the Obama administration used the Office of Management and Budget’s longstanding requirements and accounted cost and savings accordingly, it would have presented a more accurate accounting of the total cost of the CPP.

In this proposed repeal and its accompanying technical documents, this administration is, in a robust, open, and transparent way, presenting a wide range of analysis scenarios to the public.

As part of the notice-and-comment process for this proposed repeal, EPA will continue this analysis and inform the public, as necessary, to get feedback on new modeling and other information. The final action on this proposed repeal will address the results of this ongoing work.

Forthcoming is an Advanced Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (ANPRM) that will be reflective of a thoughtful and responsible approach to regulatory action grounded within the authority provided by the statute.

“With this action, the Trump administration is respecting states’ role and reinstating transparency into how we protect our environment,” said Administrator Pruitt.

Background:

On March 28, President Trump signed an Executive Order on Energy Independence, establishing a national policy in favor of energy independence, economic growth, and the rule of law. The purpose of the Executive Order (EO) is to facilitate the development of U.S. energy resources and to reduce unnecessary regulatory burdens associated with the development of those resources. That same day, EPA Administrator Scott Pruitt signed four Federal Register notices in response to the EO, including a formal announcement of review of the Clean Power Plan. After substantial review, the Agency has proposed to determine that the Clean Power Plan (CPP) must be repealed.

Scientific Integrity Committee Clears Pruitt Against Sierra Club's 'Climate Denier' Charge

<http://freebeacon.com/issues/scientific-integrity-committee-clears-pruitt-against-sierra-clubs-climate-denier-charge/>

The Sierra Club has failed in its attempt to label Scott Pruitt a violator of the Environmental Protection Agency's Scientific Integrity Policy.

Pruitt is off the hook for expressing an opinion about global warming, as a scientific review panel ruled that it is within EPA policy to call for rigorous debate on the issue, according to a letter obtained by the Washington Free Beacon.

"The freedom to express one's opinion about science is fundamental to EPA's Scientific Integrity Policy even (and especially) when that point of view might be controversial," wrote Dr. Thomas Sinks, the director of the EPA's Office of the Science Advisor.

The Sierra Club filed a complaint to the inspector general against Pruitt in March, alleging Pruitt violated the Scientific Integrity Policy by saying during an interview that there is disagreement among scientists about whether CO2 is the primary driver of global warming.

The inspector general referred the allegation to Dr. Francesca Grifo, the EPA's Scientific Integrity Official, who then passed along the Sierra Club's complaint to the EPA Scientific Integrity Committee.

The committee cleared Pruitt of the charge, and, in fact, defended the EPA administrator for expressing his opinion and encouraging "vigorous debate."

"In his response, the Administrator expressed his opinion regarding contributions to global warming and called for more debate, review, and analysis as a precursor to any future EPA policy decision on the matter," the Scientific Integrity Review Panel said. "This expression of opinion, which was not made in a decisional context, is fully within the protections of EPA's Scientific Integrity Policy and does not violate that Policy. We also note that, in his remarks, the Administrator did not suppress or alter Agency scientific findings."

The EPA panel went further in refuting the Sierra Club's interpretation of the Scientific Integrity Policy. The liberal environmentalist group had branded Pruitt a "climate denier" in its complaint.

"Expressing an opinion about science is not a violation of the EPA Scientific Integrity Policy," the EPA panel said. "Indeed, the Scientific Integrity Policy—in the spirit of promoting vigorous debate and inquiry—specifically encourages employees to express their opinion should the employee disagree with scientific data, scientific interpretations, or scientific conclusions."

The Sierra Club did not immediately respond to a request for comment.

The group's complaint was spurred by an interview Pruitt gave to CNBC, where he was asked, "Do you believe that it's been proven that carbon dioxide is the primary control knob for climate?"

Pruitt responded: "No. I think that measuring with precision human activity on the climate is something very challenging to do and there's tremendous disagreement about the degree of impact. So no, I would not agree that it's a primary contributor to the global warming that we see. But we don't know that yet... We need to continue the debate and continue the review and the analysis."

The letter was signed by Dr. Sinks, and sent to Elena Saxonhouse, a senior attorney for the Sierra Club, and Joanne Spalding, the group's chief climate counsel.

Hey, hope you all are well. I moved to National Journal a few weeks ago. I'm covering all environment and energy policy, so please reach out anytime.

In the meantime, the House oversight committee requested info from agencies and departments on non-commercial air travel with an Oct. 10 deadline.

Did EPA respond? If so, can you share that correspondence?

Thanks much.

Hi everyone,

Apologies for continuing to pester you on this, but I'm still not receiving EPA press emails. A colleague has been forwarding the ones I haven't received. Most recently, I didn't get the Region 4 administrator announcement yesterday.

The problem might be that I went on maternity leave and emails bounced back while I was gone. Can someone please help me get back on your lists?

EPA Hurricane Maria Update for Monday, September 25

WASHINGTON (September 25, 2017) - U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) continues to coordinate closely with federal, commonwealth, territory, and local partners as the Agency responds to the impact of Hurricane Maria. EPA is supporting the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) through its assistance to the governments of Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands (USVI). EPA is focused on environmental impacts and potential threats to human health caused by Hurricane Maria, as well as the safety of those in the affected areas.

About 100 personnel are currently involved in hurricane response efforts.

EPA's six-person water assessment team arrived in St. Croix on September 24, and have begun coordinating with the USVI Department of Planning and Natural Resources to assess drinking water and wastewater treatment facilities. The EPA team has the ability to perform basic testing of drinking water. EPA's Region 2 Emergency Operations Center was able to get some generators shipped on September 23 to the USVI to help get the USVI labs back on line to perform water testing.

Four portable reverse osmosis drinking water treatment units from the Department of Defense have arrived in the USVI and could be used to provide drinking water as needed. The USVI Water and Power Authority is working to get all drinking water systems energized, and as that process proceeds, they will coordinate closely with EPA and FEMA to use the four treatment units as needed.

Assessment teams made up of On-Scene Coordinators (OSCs), Remedial Project Managers (RPMs), technical assistance contractors, and public information officers continue to deploy to Puerto Rico. Preparations are underway to re-assess Superfund and oil sites in Puerto Rico and the USVI as part of the EPA re-deployment plan.

Scientific Integrity Committee Clears Pruitt Against Sierra Club's 'Climate Denier' Charge

August 1, 2017

Elizabeth Harrington

<http://freebeacon.com/issues/scientific-integrity-committee-clears-pruitt-against-sierra-clubs-climate-denier-charge/>

The Sierra Club has failed in its attempt to label Scott Pruitt a violator of the Environmental Protection Agency's Scientific Integrity Policy.

Pruitt is off the hook for expressing an opinion about global warming, as a scientific review panel ruled that it is within EPA policy to call for rigorous debate on the issue, according to a letter obtained by the Washington Free Beacon.

"The freedom to express one's opinion about science is fundamental to EPA's Scientific Integrity Policy even (and especially) when that point of view might be controversial," wrote Dr. Thomas Sinks, the director of the EPA's Office of the Science Advisor.

The Sierra Club filed a complaint to the inspector general against Pruitt in March, alleging Pruitt violated the Scientific Integrity Policy by saying during an interview that there is disagreement among scientists about whether CO2 is the primary driver of global warming.

The inspector general referred the allegation to Dr. Francesca Grifo, the EPA's Scientific Integrity Official, who then passed along the Sierra Club's complaint to the EPA Scientific Integrity Committee.

The committee cleared Pruitt of the charge, and, in fact, defended the EPA administrator for expressing his opinion and encouraging "vigorous debate."

"In his response, the Administrator expressed his opinion regarding contributions to global warming and called for more debate, review, and analysis as a precursor to any future EPA policy decision on the matter," the Scientific Integrity Review Panel said. "This expression of opinion, which was not made in a decisional context, is fully within the protections of EPA's Scientific Integrity Policy and does not violate that Policy. We also note that, in his remarks, the Administrator did not suppress or alter Agency scientific findings."

The EPA panel went further in refuting the Sierra Club's interpretation of the Scientific Integrity Policy. The liberal environmentalist group had branded Pruitt a "climate denier" in its complaint.

"Expressing an opinion about science is not a violation of the EPA Scientific Integrity Policy," the EPA panel said. "Indeed, the Scientific Integrity Policy—in the spirit of promoting vigorous debate and inquiry—specifically encourages employees to express their opinion should the employee disagree with scientific data, scientific interpretations, or scientific conclusions."

The Sierra Club did not immediately respond to a request for comment.

The group's complaint was spurred by an interview Pruitt gave to CNBC, where he was asked, "Do you believe that it's been proven that carbon dioxide is the primary control knob for climate?"

Pruitt responded: "No. I think that measuring with precision human activity on the climate is something very challenging to do and there's tremendous disagreement about the degree of impact. So no, I would not agree that it's a primary contributor to the global warming that we see. But we don't know that yet... We need to continue the debate and continue the review and the analysis."

The letter was signed by Dr. Sinks, and sent to Elena Saxonhouse, a senior attorney for the Sierra Club, and Joanne Spalding, the group's chief climate counsel.

Hi, I thought I was getting EPA press releases but I didn't get this email sent out. Would love to get a copy, and also make sure I'm getting all of EPA's emails.

https://twitter.com/Timothy\_Cama/status/895705249029160960

And does the EPA have a comment on the status of the climate assessment's review at the agency?

Thank you

Again all of this is background – EPA official

Attached are the screenshots of the emails that Michael has received. He's actually been on and reading some of our emails as this points out. Also attached is everyone that is on our press list from the AP which is over 50 reporters.

Hi Jahan and Amy, I did not receive this press release. Can you double and triple check I am receiving all of the press releases? I recreated my account on EPA's website to make sure I am receiving everything. It is very odd to say the least that I am not receiving the ones I want to read the most. I would appreciate your attention to this issue. I know you are very busy.

Thanks,

Amy

The Sierra Club has failed in its attempt to label Scott Pruitt a violator of the Environmental Protection Agency's Scientific Integrity Policy.

Pruitt is off the hook for expressing an opinion about global warming, as a scientific review panel ruled that it is within EPA policy to call for rigorous debate on the issue, according to a letter obtained by the Washington Free Beacon.

"The freedom to express one's opinion about science is fundamental to EPA's Scientific Integrity Policy even (and especially) when that point of view might be controversial," wrote Dr. Thomas Sinks, the director of the EPA's Office of the Science Advisor.

The Sierra Club filed a complaint to the inspector general against Pruitt in March, alleging Pruitt violated the Scientific Integrity Policy by saying during an interview that there is disagreement among scientists about whether CO2 is the primary driver of global warming.

The inspector general referred the allegation to Dr. Francesca Grifo, the EPA's Scientific Integrity Official, who then passed along the Sierra Club's complaint to the EPA Scientific Integrity Committee.

The committee cleared Pruitt of the charge, and, in fact, defended the EPA administrator for expressing his opinion and encouraging "vigorous debate."

"In his response, the Administrator expressed his opinion regarding contributions to global warming and called for more debate, review, and analysis as a precursor to any future EPA policy decision on the matter," the Scientific Integrity Review Panel said. "This expression of opinion, which was not made in a decisional context, is fully within the protections of EPA's Scientific Integrity Policy and does not violate that Policy. We also note that, in his remarks, the Administrator did not suppress or alter Agency scientific findings."

The EPA panel went further in refuting the Sierra Club's interpretation of the Scientific Integrity Policy. The liberal environmentalist group had branded Pruitt a "climate denier" in its complaint.

"Expressing an opinion about science is not a violation of the EPA Scientific Integrity Policy," the EPA panel said. "Indeed, the Scientific Integrity Policy—in the spirit of promoting vigorous debate and inquiry—specifically encourages employees to express their opinion should the employee disagree with scientific data, scientific interpretations, or scientific conclusions."

The Sierra Club did not immediately respond to a request for comment.

The group's complaint was spurred by an interview Pruitt gave to CNBC, where he was asked, "Do you believe that it's been proven that carbon dioxide is the primary control knob for climate?"

Pruitt responded: "No. I think that measuring with precision human activity on the climate is something very challenging to do and there's tremendous disagreement about the degree of impact. So no, I would not agree that it's a primary contributor to the global warming that we see. But we don't know that yet... We need to continue the debate and continue the review and the analysis."

The letter was signed by Dr. Sinks, and sent to Elena Saxonhouse, a senior attorney for the Sierra Club, and Joanne Spalding, the group's chief climate counsel.

Hi Jahan,

It was nice speaking with you on the phone. As I mentioned briefly, my BuzzFeed News colleague Nidhi Subbaraman covers environmental health and is looking to get added to the EPA press list. Can you add her? She's also based in DC, FYI.

Best,
Zahra
